

As a business owner myself I think it is ridiculous to limit XM satellite radio to a national service. This takes away from the service they are trying to provide their members and, of course, myself. If XM is able to provide a better service than local radio stations then so be it.

I would personally like XM to offer localized service as XM is all I listen to anymore. This is simply due to the fact local radio stations do not offer the programming I am interested in as it is not commercially lucrative.

I support XM radio and would be very dissatisfied if they were strongarmed into complying with silly legislation that is simply occurring because a monopolistic organization doesn't want fair competition in a free market.
